ORDER

This matter is before the court on the motion for an extension of time by defendant Yer Yang (Yang) (Filing No. 20). Yang seeks an additional fourteen days in which to file pretrial motions in accordance with the progression order. Yang's counsel represents that Yang will file an affidavit wherein she consents to the motion and acknowledges she understands the additional time may be excludable time for the purposes of the Speedy Trial Act. Yang's counsel represents that government's counsel has no objection to the motion. Upon consideration and for good cause shown, the motion will be granted.

IT IS ORDERED:

Defendant Yang's motion for an extension of time (Filing No. 20) is granted. Yang is given until on or before September 8, 2009, in which to file pretrial motions pursuant to the progression order. The ends of justice have been served by granting such motion and outweigh the interests of the public and the defendant in a speedy trial. The additional time arising as a result of the granting of the motion, i.e., the time between August 21, 2009 and September 8, 2009, shall be deemed excludable time in any computation of time under the requirement of the Speedy Trial Act for the reason defendants' counsel requires additional time to adequately prepare the case, taking into consideration due diligence of counsel, and the novelty and complexity of this case. The failure to grant additional time might result in a miscarriage of justice. 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(8)(A) & (B). Trial of this matter will be rescheduled following the disposition of any pretrial motions filed in accordance with this order or upon the expiration of the deadline set forth herein whichever occurs later.

DATED this 21st day of August, 2009.
